Three Affordable Closets Plus Creations Receive 2013 Top Shelf Design awards
Gala awards reception held on Feb. 27 honored top closet and home designers

Frenchtown, NJ -- March 5, 2013 – On February 27, 2013, closet design industry experts selected three custom designs by local business Affordable Closets Plus for honors at the 7th Annual Closets Top Shelf Design Awards, including the event’s overall Top Shelf Design award. The annual awards ceremony, which was held this year during the 2013 Cabinets and Closets Conference & Expo at the Sheraton Edison Hotel Raritan Center in Edison, NJ, honors designers for creative closet and home organizational designs. Chosen from more than 71 entries, winning designs and companies will be featured in the April issue of Closets and on ClosetsDaily.com.

Affordable Closets Plus has offices in Frenchtown, NJ, and Bangor, PA, and is run by husband and wife DeVoe and Angel Martin of Frenchtown, NJ. The company is currently celebrating its 20th year in business. The three creations receiving awards were its:

- Hidden Treasure Trove Dressing Room 2012 closet design, which won in the event’s “Closet: Wood/Veneer, other, more than 18 linear feet” category, and earned overall Top Shelf Design honors;
- Passage Way of Art custom bar unit design, which won in the event’s “Specialty Room Design (pantry, craft, wine, laundry, mudroom)” category; and
- The White Dressing Room closet design, which won in the “Closet: melamine/other, 18 linear feet or less” category.

“We put great thought into each of our designs to ensure they are not only aesthetically and creatively pleasing, but functional and convenient as well,” says Angel Martin. “We value the positive feedback we regularly hear from Affordable Closets Plus customers, and it’s also a great honor to see our designs recognized by professionals and design colleagues in the field. Competition was strong in every category this year, so we are thrilled that Affordable Closets Plus brought home four awards!”
